"Finding a belly dancer in L.A. is not difficult but finding a dancer that understands the cultural aspects and incorporates authentic dance styles into her performances is something else. Rosalba is truly a professional in many ways, she carefully listened to what we wanted for our wedding and planned accordingly. We made specific requests on music, props and costuming and she delivered all the way. She brought true excitement to our family and guests. We were very thankful for her professionalism and talent. We truly recommend Rosalba for any special event and we would definitely hire her again."
